

INSURANCE BILL PASSES THE HOUSE

Measure Equalized Allowances to Dependents of Enlisted Men and Officers

BILL GOES TO SENATE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—The administration's soldiers and sailors' insurance bill, amended so as to equalize the allowance to the dependents of enlisted men and officers, passed the house tonight.

The vote was 319 to 0. Representatives Platt of New York and Hersey of Maine, changing negative votes to aye before the result was announced amid thunderous applause.

Stand On Same Basis.
As the bill went to the senate tonight, privates and officers and their dependents stand on exactly the same basis. Benefits and allowances now provided for are slightly higher than those originally proposed as the minimum for privates by the committee and considerably lower than the maximum amounts which officers and their dependents would have received.

President Wilson scored a personal victory in the adoption 141 to 77 of an amendment raising from $5,000 to $10,000 the maximum amount of optional insurance policies that the government would issue to all the men in the service. The original draft of the bill carried $10,000 but it was stricken out in committee.

The mildness of the attack of opponents of the measure on the optional insurance section caused surprise. It was passed over in a comparatively short time after a formal motion to strike it out had been overwhelmingly defeated. This fight, however, will be carried to the senate by the insurance companies, it is understood.

Substitute for Pension Law.
The main purposes of the bill are to provide a substitute for the present pension law as it would apply to men engaged in this war a new system of allotments and compensations which will provide for dependents of the soldier and rehabilitate men upon their return from the war. Upon enlistment under the provisions of the bill a soldier or sailor would be entitled to take out from $1,000 to $10,000 worth of optional insurance at approximately $8 per $1,000. His dependents would be entitled to allotments from the government of from $5 to $50 per month and an equal amount to $15 per month from his pay. Death or total disability resulting, the dependents of any person in the military or naval service, including women members of the nurse corps, would be entitled to compensation ranging from $20 to $70 per month and the insurance.

In case of total disability the injured person would be paid from $40 to $100 per month.

Action Comes Unexpectedly.
Elimination of the committee compensation provisions came unexpectedly. No serious opposition to them was promised until Representative Black of Texas suddenly began assailing the salary basis proposal as a most undemocratic thing to impose upon an army fighting for democracy. He quickly won supporters and his proposal to equalize the benefits of all classes was adopted almost unanimously. Representative Alexander of Missouri, opposed the Black amendment on the ground that a family should benefit from the death or disability of their support in accordance with his earning capacity.

A widow's compensation would cease upon her re-marriage and a dependent child's would cease at 18 years old.

Monthly benefits to a soldier or sailor in case of total disability would be as follows:
"If he has neither wife nor child living $40, wife, $55; wife and one child, $65; two or more children, $75; no wife but one child, $50 and $10 additional for each child up to dependent, widowed mother, $10 additional.

Injured men requiring nurse care would receive an additional $20 monthly.

A man losing both feet, hands or eyes would be entitled automatically to $100 per month.

Ten Years to File Claims.
Amendments adopted would give claimants ten years instead of one in which to file their claims for compensation, prevent divorced wives who have re-married from sharing in a dependent's allowance and eliminate proposed salary increases for present employees of the government who are to administer certain provisions of the measures.

Opinions differ as to the cost of applying the measure. The first year appropriation is $176,000,000 but it is declared by some that this will not be nearly enough. Representative Gillett of Massachusetts, acting Republican leader, declared today that the second year cost of administration probably would be nearly $2,000,000,000. The measure is not complete in respect to its rehabilitation feature. Provision merely is made for rehabilitation and the details will be worked out later. Representative Fess of Ohio, particularly urged the house today to be liberal in dealing with this provision. Statistics showed, he said, that 85 per cent of the broken men who return from the British front can be rehabilitated.

POLICE PREVENT ANTI-GERMAN RIOTS

Frequently Charge Crowd in Streets of Buenos Aires

Many Citizens are Injured and a Number of Policemen Hurt—Swedish Colony Disapproves of Measures On Part of Sweden.

Buenos Aires, Sept. 13.—Thousands of persons congregated tonight along the Avenida Mayo and Florida in an attempt to organize another anti-German demonstration and to demand a rupture of relations with Germany. Acting under the orders of President Irigoyen, however, squads of mounted police were sent out to maintain order. They frequently charged crowds that endeavored to assemble, using their sabres freely. Many citizens were injured and a number of policemen also received hurts. The crowds raided news stands of editors of the German newspaper La Union and also took copies from newsboys in the streets and made bonfires of them.

The activity of the police during the evening prevented large crowds from concentrating at one point in the city long enough to do serious damage.

Swedish Colony Acts.
The Swedish colony here after a long discussion of the Washington expose of the Luxburg affair which involved the Swedish legation, has given out the following:

"We protest against the person or persons whose unusual procedure has created the uncomfortable and difficult situation in which the Swedish colony today finds itself and we express the most complete disapproval of these measures on the part of Sweden, which violated the most sacred rules of neutrality."

Luxburg Dodges Crowd.
Count Von Luxburg, the German minister whose passports were sent to the German legation yesterday by the Argentine government because his objectionable message to Berlin thru the Swedish foreign office had rendered him persona non grata, dodged threatening crowds which were awaiting him on his arrival at Buenos Aires from the interior today.

Count Von Luxburg was pursued by the police to leave the train at San Martin, 12 miles outside, when news of the crowds that had gathered at the Buenos Aires railway terminal reached them.

The count when shown Washington messages of last Saturday exposing his suggestion that Argentine ships be sunk "without leaving a trace" and his aspersions upon the acting minister of foreign affairs of Argentina, ignored an invitation to deny their authenticity.

The general opinion in diplomatic circles is that Von Luxburg will go to Paraguay, to which country he is already accredited a minister, provided Paraguay agrees.

RECOMMEND MEASURES IN A REFERENDUM

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—Federal regulation of the issuance of railroad securities, compulsory incorporation of all inter-state railroads under an incorporation law to be enacted by congress and legislation to empower the interstate commerce commission to regulate intra-state rates when they affect interstate commerce are recommended in a referendum mailed today by the United States chamber of commerce to business organizations throughout the country.

The recommendations were made by the national chambers' railroad committee, H. A. Wheeler, Chicago, chairman, after a study of the present system of railroad regulation and a review of various plans suggested by railroad executives, labor leaders and commercial organizations.

COMPLETE PLANS FOR PATRIOTIC RALLY

REMOVAL OF BELGIAN CIVILIANS CONTINUES

HAVERLE, Sept. 13.—Removal of the civilian population of Belgium continues, according to advices received here. The town of Roulers, immediately behind the battle front in Flanders, has been evacuated completely. Ostend is being emptied gradually and two thousand persons already have been sent from Courtrai.

Many of the inhabitants of Berlaer have been taken forcibly to Turcoing to work on the defense. All the inhabitants of Sleveldinge, Flanders, have been made to work on military roads.

PLAN LODGING HOUSE FOR MEN IN SERVICE

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—The war council of the Y. M. C. A., it was announced today is considering a plan to establish a lodging house for the accommodation of soldiers and sailors, strangers in New York, who on leave of absence have a night to spend in the city. High rates charged by hotels, it was said, have so increased the number of soldiers and sailors appealing for aid that the war council plans to fit up a loft building as a dormitory, where men can be lodged at nominal rates.

NEWS OF KERENSKY'S PLAN GRATIFIES OFFICIALS

Would Remove One of Great Weaknesses of Democracy

Better Discipline Might Go Far Toward Infusing a Spirit of Order and Co-operation Into Civilian Populations.

Washington, Sept. 13.—News of Premier Kerensky's determination to instill better discipline into Russia's armies created almost as much gratification here today as reports that General Korniloff's revolt was failing and civil war averted.

If Kerensky succeeds his disciplinary program would remove one of the great weaknesses of the new Democracy and it is believed might go far toward infusing a spirit of order and co-operation into the civilian populations on whose industrial support the war so largely depends.

Kerensky's plan is believed to be to restore discipline by making it plain that military commanders shall have full authority to dictate military movements; by routing out the persistent influence of soldiers' committees with commanders' orders; and by retaining the present system of government civil commissioners at the front to advise men in the ranks and provide a certain check on ill treatment of soldiers.

General Alexieff, made chief of staff when Kerensky assumed nominal command of the armies and who probably will be virtual commander, is an advocate of strong authority for directing officers, and a friend of the civil commissioners.

Fronts Were Without Defense.
Petrograd, Sept. 13.—M. Avskentiev, minister of the interior said today that as a result of the Korniloff revolt all the Russian fronts for three days remained without the least defense and without command. The severest penalty he added ought to be inflicted on General Korniloff. He said the government would do nothing to mitigate his fate.

The government's task now, M. Avskentiev continued, would be to organize against a counter-revolutionary attempt, safeguard national liberty and defend the country against the foreign enemy.

Deny Allegations.
Diplomatic representatives of the allied powers have issued a statement denying allegations made by some of the newspapers that they are taking steps either to support General Korniloff's action or to hinder his suppression.

"The representatives of all the entente powers in Petrograd," says the statement, "are in sympathy with the great democracy of their ally and offered their good services in order to avoid the shedding of blood in civil war."

COMERFORD TO SPEAK IN BLOOMINGTON TONIGHT

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—Frank D. Comerford who was not permitted to speak at Bloomington, Ill., after having been invited to deliver the principal address at a labor day celebration because he would not consent to refrain from discussing the war will speak tomorrow night in the same city at a mass meeting of the trades unions. The members of the trades unions it is said to have arranged this meeting without consultation with the Union officials who prevented attorney Comerford from delivering his speech labor day.

The largest hall in Bloomington has been engaged for the occasion. Mr. Comerford says he will deliver the speech he had prepared for labor day and will pay particular attention to the activities of agitators who are attempting to place organized labor in a false light by fomenting strikes and discontent among the men during the progress of the war.

ROOSEVELT MAKES FLIGHT IN AIRPLANE

MINEOLA, N. Y., Sept. 13.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt gained today the distinction of being the first civilian to make a flight in an airplane propelled by the new military motor invented for use of the government in the war. The flight was made from the Hempstead aviation field and for a half hour the machine, piloted by H. J. Blakely, an army aviator, attained a speed varying from 90 to 110 miles an hour, reaching an altitude of 5,000 feet.

COMMISSION NAMES BANCROFT AN ORGANIZER

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 13.—The State centennial commission charged with the responsibility of planning for the celebration of Illinois 100th birthday anniversary in 1918, today appointed Horace H. Bancroft of Jacksonville, as an organizer to interest the 102 counties of the state in the ceremonies next year. To every county which organizes, a centennial banner will be given by the commission.

ADDS CHAPTER TO GERMAN INTRIGUE

Letter Shows Swedish Charge in Mexico to Give Information to Germany

WRITTEN IN MARCH 1916

General Korniloff's rebellion against Premier Kerensky apparently has been quelled, like other attempts that have been made to overthrow the provisional government in Russia.

Official reports from Petrograd say that Korniloff's headquarters has surrendered and that Korniloff himself desires conditionally to place himself in the hands of the authorities. The government, however, is demanding his abject capitulation.

Troops Desert Korniloff.
Meanwhile troops that had answered the call of revolt issued by Korniloff continue to desert his ranks and return to the government fold, declaring that they were misled by Korniloff's professed aims.

Kerensky has been confirmed by the cabinet as commander-in-chief of the army and will have with him as chief of staff in his prosecution of the war against the Teutonic allies General Alexieff, former commander-in-chief and one of the most brilliant officers in the Russian army. Added strength is also expected to be given Kerensky's rule by the appointment of new military officers for the district and city of Petrograd.

Altho the Petrograd war office early Thursday announced that no official communication had been received by the headquarters staff at the front, late in the day the communication was forthcoming. It indicated that no great amount of disaffection had occurred among the fighting forces, who in the region of Riga, near Sventskan and in the Roumanian theater were vigorously on the offensive against the enemy and that along the line east of Riga and in Roumania at several points they had won successes over the Teutons.

Force German Cavalry Back.
In the region of Riga the German cavalry was compelled to retire south of the Riga-Wenden road, while in Roumania a height was captured from the Austro-Germans after a vigorous fight and more than 400 men made prisoner. German positions to the south of Sventskan which lies between Vilna and Dvinsk, are being heavily bombarded by the Russian guns.

The situation in France and Belgium continues comparatively quiet, except for the artillery which is carrying out reciprocal bombardments on various sectors.

In the Austro-Italian theater the Austrians in another of their violent assaults against the Italians on Mont San Gabriele have been rewarded with slight gains. Their efforts to press these advances failed completely before the main line of Italian defenses.

Term Offensive a Failure.
The Austro-Italian official communication of Wednesday characterizes the Italian offensive on the Isonzo as a failure and asserts that the Italian losses have reached almost a quarter of a million men among them 20,000 prisoners.

The anti-German sentiment in Buenos Aires was still high Thursday. The rioting continued thruout Wednesday night and Thursday heavy guards were placed around German banks in order to protect them from the incensed population. The German minister who has been declared persona non grata by the Argentine government despatches to Berlin his objectionable despatches to Berlin was removed by the police from a train outside Buenos Aires in order to prevent his molestation by threatening crowds awaiting his arrival in the capital.

PLAN CO-OPERATION IN WAR LEGISLATION

Vice-pres. of French Chamber Speaks to House Members

M. Bouillon Urges Appointment of Congressional Commission to Join With Similar Bodies From the Other Allied Governments in Quarterly Meetings.

Washington, Sept. 13.—A plan for co-operation in war legislation by the parliamentary bodies of the United States, France, Great Britain, Italy and Russia was presented to members of the house tonight by Henry Franklin Bouillon, vice-president of the chamber of deputies at Paris. Mr. Bouillon speaking in the hall of the house urged the appointment of a congressional commission of seven senators and eighteen representatives as a United States inter-parliamentary delegation to join with similar bodies from the other allied governments in quarterly meetings. Without power of any kind the conference would act in an advisory capacity to the various parliamentary assemblies. The suggestion was warmly applauded, but no member proposed that it be carried out.

Speaker Clark Calls Meeting.
The meeting was called by Speaker Clark, who in introducing Mr. Bouillon told the members that he was slated to be a member of the French cabinet. Mr. Bouillon spoke fluently in English, was frequently applauded and interrupted with questions and upon the conclusion of his speech was given a vote of thanks. He spoke of the need of co-operation, and friendly affiliation between the allies and said meetings already held in Paris, London and Rome had been very beneficial in war legislation. He explained that the plan was not to bind the governments in any way but to have sessions lasting not exceeding five days at a time to exchange ideas and get all the information possible as to what the respective governments are doing "to obtain victory of the allies."

Asked if the international parliament would consider after the war problems, Mr. Bouillon replied that the only consideration contemplated was of present war questions with a view, not for nominal, but for effective disposition. There apparently is little sentiment in the house in favor of participating in the plan. Speaker Clark thinks house members cannot be spared to form a commission to deal with the matter.

ORGANIZE CHURCH'S WAR COMMISSION

The Hog Island plant will cost slightly less than $20,000,000. ## FEDERAL AGENTS PROBE SPRINGFIELD STRIKE

Investigate Charges Made by Gov. Lowden Wednesday

U. S. District Attorney Knotts Declines to Say What Progress Investigators Have Made—Giving Strikers Plenty of Time Before Being Subjected to Drastic Measures.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 13.—Agents of the federal department of justice were in Springfield today investigating charges made by Governor Frank O. Lowden yesterday that the walk-out of approximately 8,000 workers in various trades, apparently growing out of the strike of street car operatives was traceable in part to the activity of anti-American influences.

Declines to State Progress.
United States District Attorney E. C. Knotts declined to say what progress the federal investigators had made.

Apparently Governor Lowden had not taken any steps tonight to force a settlement of the street car strike, which hangs on the question of preferential runs, desiring to give the strikers and the car company plenty of time before being subjected to drastic measures implied in his statement of Wednesday night. It was commonly believed here tonight that the general strike would be broken by settlement of the car strike, altho unionists insisted their walk-out was a protest against the proposed Sunday, by troops, of a parade in support of the car strikers and that there would be no end to the protest strike until a parade was sanctioned by the authorities.

Closing of all coal mines near here and the refusal of teamsters to work has threatened many industrial plants with a coal famine.

Unmoved by Lowden's Warning.
Unmoved by Governor Lowden's warning yesterday that anti-American influences were at work here, the industrial tie-up growing out of the strike of street car operatives became more acute today when barbers, grocery clerks, brewery workers and meat cutters joined the ranks of the strikers. Plumbers and electricians are threatening to leave their work before the day is over.

In every case, those who have walked out declared their action was not primarily in sympathy with the car strike, but because police and military authorities had denied unionists their right to parade last Sunday.

Estimates placed the number now on protest strike at between 7,000 and 8,000, most of whom are coal miners.

SEND FORTY MORE SECRETARIES ABROAD

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—The Young Men's Christian association announced today that forty more secretaries of the organization have sailed from at Atlantic port for work in France among the American expeditionary forces and in the new army. The total number of association workers now overseas is 250, those in the last group including Dr. Guy Potter Denton, president of the University of Vermont, Burlington, Vt., Prof. Edward P. Bailliot of Evanston, Illinois, head of the department of romance languages of Northwestern University; Ray W. Clearman, Oxford, Iowa; William C. Levere, Evanston, Ill.; David L. Shillinglaw, Waterloo, Iowa.

PERSHING SENDS MESSAGE TO AMERICAN SOLDIERS

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Major General Pershing has sent a message to American soldiers thru the New York Bible Society, which was made public here today. The message, which will be inserted in the small khaki covered testaments given the men follows:
"Aroused against a nation waging war in violation of all Christian principles, our people are fighting in the cause of liberty.
"Hardship will be your lot, but trust in God will give you comfort. Temptation will befall you. Let your valor as a soldier and your conduct as a man be an inspiration to your comrades and an honor to your country."

APPARENTLY QUELL KORNILOFF'S REVOLT

Official Petrograd Reports Say Korniloff's Headquarters Has Surrendered

RUSSIANS ON OFFENSIVE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—Another chapter to the story of German intrigue in neutral countries and among neutral diplomats, was revealed tonight by Secretary Lansing in the form of a letter to the imperial chancellor from the notorious VonEckhardt, the German minister at Mexico City to whom the intercepted Zimmerman note was addressed. It discloses that Folke Cronholm, then Swedish charge in Mexico, was depended upon by the German diplomat to furnish information "from the hostile camp" and to transmit communications to Berlin, and that VonEckhardt wanted him rewarded by a secret award from the kaiser of the "Order of the Crown of the Second Class."

Made Public Without Comment.
This letter was written on March 8, 1916, and apparently has been in the possession of the American government for a long time. It was made public without comment, shedding light upon the methods of another Swedish diplomat representative in his headquarters now was when the United States and her allies are awaiting with interest Sweden's explanation to Argentina of the conduct of her minister at Buenos Aires who transmitted the German "sink without leaving a trace" dispatches.

Baron Akerhielm, Swedish charge here, said tonight in response to a query that Cronholm was dismissed from the diplomatic service last January. He would not discuss the cause but there was no intimation that it was in any way connected with Cronholm's relations with the Germans.

Baron Akerhielm called at the state department during the day to inform Secretary Lansing that he had received from his government the statement already given to the public at Stockholm explaining that Sweden had forwarded dispatches from the German minister at Buenos Aires in German code without knowledge of their contents. He did not leave a copy of the statement. It is assumed that the Stockholm foreign office will not address any communication to the American government on the subject.

Translation of Letter.
The department's translation of the VonEckhardt letter follows:
"Imperial Legation, Mexico, to His Excellency the Imperial Chancellor:
"Her Folke Cronholm, the Swedish charge d'affaires here, since his arrival here has not disguised his sympathy for Germany and has entered into close relations with this legation. He is the only diplomat thru whom information from a hostile camp can be obtained. Moreover he acts as intermediary for official diplomatic intercourse between this legation and your excellency. In the course of this, he is obliged to go personally each time to the telegraph office, not seldom quite late at night in order to hand in the telegrams.
"Herr Cronholm was formerly at Peking and at Tokio, and was responsible for the preliminary arrangements which had to be made for the representation of his country in each case. Before he came out here he had been in charge of the consulate-general at Hamburg. Herr Cronholm has not got a Swedish but only a Chinese order at present. I venture to submit to your excellency the advisability of laying before his majesty, the emperor, the name of Herr Cronholm with a view to the crown order of the second class being bestowed upon him.
"It would perhaps be desirable in order not to excite the enemy's suspicion to treat with secrecy the matter of the issue of the patents until the end of the war should be decided by a favorable to my suggestion. This would mean that the matter would be communicated to none but the recipient and his government and even to them only under the seal of secrecy. While the publication of the bestowal of the decoration would be postponed until the end of the war.
"I should be particularly grateful to your excellency if I could be furnished with telegraphic news of the bestowal of the decoration which I strongly recommend in view of the circumstances detailed above. VonEckhardt."

Watch Situation with Interest.
Officials here are watching with interest the situation in Argentina where reports indicate that the indignation of both the people and the government have been aroused to such a pitch that the government may have difficulty in keeping itself from being forced into breaking relations with Germany, regardless of any explanations from Berlin of being pressed into sharp controversy with Stockholm.
No representations either to Sweden or to Mexico it is understood will be made by the United States in connection with the conduct of the Swedish representative in Mexico City but it is regarded as not improbable that the Mexican government may make it the occasion for

"Woodman spare that tree" is an expression probably never heard by any member of our park board.

Considerable interest has been manifested in the story of a burning river. A tank of oil had been spilled into the stream as a consequence of a railroad wreck and somebody put a lighted match to the surface, just to see what would happen. What happened was a conflagration that illuminated the country for miles around. That so much interest should be manifested in this incident affords another illustration of the rapidly with which the world is moving. It seems a very short time since a river fire was a commonplace, or since the Chicago River used to take fire periodically from spontaneous combustion. One of the regular duties of the Chicago Fire Department, for years, was to "extinguish the river." But the drainage canal finally destroyed the inflammability of the waterway.

LET THE PACIFISTS BE STILL.

Rhetoric wins no wars.
Argument fails when assault begins.
There is but one way to end a struggle with an implacable foe, once the struggle is begun. That way, the only way, is to use every effort to render that foe powerless to continue the struggle, says the Peoria Star.

In the face of these admitted facts the pacifist has no place in our national scheme of things at this time. The time has gone by when argument was needful, or even permissible. The professional pacifist, as well as the visionary lover of peace cannot be heard while the cannon of despotism are thundering at the foundations of democracy. Forced into a war not of her own seeking, fighting only for unselfish purposes, American stands united in the determination to bend each ounce of main strength, each penny of resource, to the winning of this war. Let the pacifists be still.

A CALL FOR VOLUNTEERS.

All patriotic men and women of Illinois are hereby invited to enlist for a state-wide patriotic educational campaign under the direction of the State Council of Defense Neighborhood Committee.

Not all can join the army or navy, drive an ambulance or manhandle truck, or serve the Red Cross. We CAN help in no less important work at home without which the Army and Navy will be paralyzed. The strength of the fighting line simply reflects the strength of purpose and of effort behind the lines. Russia is a reminder.

The purpose of this campaign is twofold:

(1) To provide an arena for all who feel the call to service in the national cause without having found an opportunity to answer the call.

(2) To organize, mobilize and put into action the patriotic sentiment of Illinois, which needs only direction to become irresistible.

If you can lead, if you can organize, if you can speak or write, even if you can do no more than enroll yourself as one who believes in the United States, this is an opportunity to take part worthily and efficiently in the highest enterprise of all time, namely, the Winning of the World War.

Teachers of Illinois are especially invited to enlist in this work. Theirs is the opportunity to make the lessons of the war contribute to better citizenship in the future, and to the greater strength of our country.

The call is for volunteers, wholeheartedly in earnest. Send your name and address, with an expression of preference for the kind of work you would undertake, to the State Council of Defense Neighborhood Committee, 120 West Adams Street, Chicago.

RUN MAD AND MURDEROUS.

Otto H. Kahn, banker and philanthropist, in a powerful speech asked the question, "Would life be tolerable if the power of Prussianism, run mad and murderous, held the world by the throat?" His own answer gives some of the reasons why America is at war. Mr. Kahn said: "It is the purpose of a common determination to fight and to bear and to dare everything and never to cease nor rest until the accursed thing which has brought upon the world the unutterable calamity, the devil's visitation of this appalling war, is destroyed beyond all possibility of resurrection."

"That accursed thing it is not a nation, but an evil spirit, a spirit which has made the government possessed by it and executing its abhorrent and bloody bidding, an abomination in the sight of God and men." "Speaking as one born of German parents, I do not hesitate to state it as my deep conviction that the greatest service which men of German birth or antecedents can render to the country of their origin is to proclaim and to stand up for the great and fine ideals and national qualities and traditions they inherited from their ancestors, and to set their faces like flint against the monstrous doctrines and acts of a ruler which have robbed them of the Germany which they loved and in which they took just pride, the Germany which had the good will, respect and admiration of the entire world."

ORGANIZED LABOR AND LAWLESSNESS.

In his recent statement regarding labor troubles in Springfield Governor Lowden called attention to the danger of assuming that organized labor is wholly responsible for the bloodshed and destruction of property. He says "We are getting along very well with the Federation of Labor and most of the recognized labor people." There are a few fly-by-night organizations, just recently formed, who have as yet no conception of true "unionism," whose only purpose is to create trouble and to make a dollar for themselves, who the governor thinks "are too friendly with the enemies of our country, who are taking advantage of the labor situation in an attempt to align the labor people on the side of lawlessness and disorder, making all sorts of pretenses for their action. We cannot afford at this time to have the enemies of our government appear to be the champions of labor, when they are really traitors to labor and traitors to their country."

A majority of labor organizations, especially those who have had years of training and experience in adjusting labor disputes and the wage question are conscientiously and earnestly seeking better conditions for their members in every sense and at the same time conservative enough to recognize the fact that employers have some rights. Together they have worked until in many cases "unionism" has been a benefit to employer and employee.

Mark the distinction made by the governor. "Most of the recognized labor people" and "those who are too friendly with the enemies of our country" and do the confusion. A vast majority of the membership of labor organizations are loyal to our country and our flag, and do not countenance lawlessness or disturbances that are not only in restraint of trade but intended to create conditions that will work a hardship for all.

GARFIELD ARE DOING THEIR BIT FOR COUNTRY.

The name of Garfield may become as famous in this war as it did in the civil war, for the whole Garfield family, sons and grandsons, descendants of the twentieth president of the United States, the martyred James A. Garfield, are upholding the traditions of the family by serving the flag.

At the outbreak of the civil war James A. Garfield had just been deferred his services to the governor of Ohio, and became lieutenant colonel and then colonel of the Forty-second Ohio volunteers. After serving in Kentucky he was promoted to be a brigadier general of volunteers in 1862. He took part in the battle of Shiloh, was chief of staff in the army of the Cumberland in 1863 fought at Chickamauga and for gallantry in that battle was made a major general of volunteers, resigning his commission to take a seat in congress.

Two sons of the martyred president are holding important executive positions in the present war. Dr. Harry A. Garfield, eldest son and president of Williams college, has been appointed coal administrator by President Wilson. James R. Garfield, another son, secretary of the interior under President Roosevelt, is in charge of Red Cross work in the "lake district" Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky. His wife has inaugurated some of the most important work undertaken by the Cleveland Red Cross and works daily at headquarters making bandages or directing the departments.

Mr. and Mrs. James R. Garfield have four sons. Two of them, James A. and Newell, were commissioned captains at the Fort Benjamin Harrison officers' training camp and have gone to the cantonment at Chillicothe, Ohio. John Newell Garfield, the third son, is a second lieutenant in the Second regiment Ohio field artillery. He served with Troop A of Cleveland on the Mexican border. The fourth son, Rudolph, is a young man for military service. Dr. Harry A. Garfield has one son, Stanton, serving in France with the American ambulance corps. Another son, James, is at the Plattsburg, N. Y., training camp. The only girl in the late president's family, Mrs. J. Stanley-Brown, has only one son, Rudolph. He was formerly with Troop A of Cleveland, but won a commission as first lieutenant at Fort Benjamin Harrison training camp. Quincy Herald.

SCARBOROUGH AND "OLIVER'S MOUNT."

Morgan county has many residents whose ancestors came from historic Scarborough to whom the following sketch, taken from the Christian Science Monitor, will be of interest:

Scarborough, the fishing port and holiday resort on the east coast of England, which, for the second time during the war, was bombarded by the Germans the other day, possesses a situation of peculiar beauty. The place may be viewed from many vantage points, from the wooded summit of Oyver's Mount, the strange, flat-topped hill which rises behind the town to the southwest, or from the low cliffs, beyond the "rocks," which extend along the edge of the South Bay to where the black steak of Fliley Brigg pokes its nose into the North Sea; but perhaps the best way to see Scarborough is from the sea.

In the days before the war, there was a small pleasure steamer which afforded the voyager this view, after a manner which could scarcely be improved upon. The boat was wont to start from the old stone pier of Bridlington Harbor, some twenty miles to the south, make a bee line across the bay for the "white immensity" of Flamborough Head, then, well out to sea, cross Fliley Bay, and so round towards Scarborough. Then, as the little craft churned its way round the Brigg, one would suddenly catch sight of the Scaur, the lofty headland crowned with the ruins of Scarborough Castle, which divides the North Bay from the South Bay. Round about the Scaur clusters the old town, with its red-brick, red-tiled houses, its blue smoke and its harbor with its forest of masts and nets for the Scarborough fishing fleet is one of the most important along the coast. The houses climb up the sides of the hill, crowd down to the water's edge, and trail off beyond, towards the new town, which skirts the bay.

Old Scarborough does not extend itself beyond the Scaur. After the manner of such old towns which grew up around a castle, it likes to be within sight of the keep and the castle walls. And the old town is a very old town. To be sure, it is not actually mentioned in the Domesday Book, but the remains of Roman roads leading to the town prove conclusively that, even in the Roman days, it must have been a place of no little importance. Its history, however, so far as there is any record of it, begins with the building of the castle, and this enterprise was accomplished in the Twelfth Century by William le Gros, Earl of Albemarle. He chose his site well, and future lords, governors, and kings added to the strength of the great fortress. Henry II, especially, had a great opinion of Scarborough as a stronghold, and from his time onward the castle was in the hands of a distinguished line of nobles appointed by the king.

As the castle waxed in importance, so did the town. It had a charter as early as 1181, which granted that the burgesses should possess "all liberties in the same way as the citizens of York," and further provided that they should "render to the King, yearly, 4d. for every house whose gable turned to the way, and 6d. for those whose sides were turned to the way." Thereafter, sundry kings confirmed this charter or extended it. Under Richard III the town reached the height of its glory, when, in 1485, the last of the Plantagenets appointed that the town should be governed by a mayor, sheriff and twelve aldermen, and also granted, amongst other extensive privileges, that Scarborough, with the manor of Whalesgrave, should be a county of itself.

During the Civil War Scarborough stood for the King, and twice suffered bombardment at the hands of the Parliamentary forces. Indeed local tradition ascribes the name of Oliver's Mount to the fact that it was on the top of this hill that Cromwell's men planted their guns. Ultimately the castle, like so many other castles, was dismantled, but governors continued to be appointed until 1832, the whole list of them covering a period of nearly 700 years. The modern town is quite a modern town, but, with many natural beauties, and, although one of the most popular summer resorts in the country, its residential population of nearly 40,000 makes it a place of some importance.

EVERY LITTLE HELPS

We all are doing what we can, to make the war a big success, to help along the Red Cross plan or to alleviate distress. I see the busy woman knit, as down the village street I come, I watch their shining needles flit, I hear their silver thimbles hum. I mark the farmer as he shucks his corn and throws it in a van, and he, while earning needed bucks, is helping, like a little man. I watch the poet slug his lyre, and sing glad songs about the flag; and his poor effort may inspire some man who finds his courage sag. I note the grocer sell his prunes; he asks a modest price per pound, and as he nails the plectrums, he helps to make the wheels go round. The pastor of the village kirk, who in his pulpit takes his stand, and urges men to pray and work, is helping, too, to beat the band. All men who pass along a smile, a word of courage and of cheer, are doing something worth the while, they help to bring our triumph near. He does not help who idle stands, who saws no wood, who tills no soil, who loafs around with empty hands, discouraging the lads who toil.

SECOND INCREMENT

Forty Eight Morgan County Men Must Leave for Camp Taylor on That Date.

Official notification was received by the local exemption board Thursday from the adjutant general's office to the effect that the second contingent of Morgan county's quota for the new national army must leave Jacksonville Saturday afternoon, Sept. 22, at four o'clock on the Alton for Camp Taylor. This second increment, comprising forty per cent of the total quota of the county, or forty-eight men, will follow the same line of travel as the first five per cent, going to East St. Louis, thence to Henderson, Ky., from there to Louisville and then to Camp Taylor.

The following letter from Provost Marshall Crowder was received Thursday.

"Please communicate to all local and district boards and give the widest possible newspaper publicity to the following; first, by the regulations of the president governing appeals from the action of the district boards and the claim of appeal must be filed with the district board and cannot be received if sent direct to the president, the provost marshal general, members of congress or to any other place than the district board itself. Second, papers, evidence, and affidavits not considered by the district board cannot be considered on appeal from the district board. Fourth, All attempts to appeal cases other than those involving the decision of the district board on agriculture or industrial exemptions from whatever source received; all affidavits, letters or arguments, evidence, papers or other matter not considered by the district boards; all appeals made to the president direct or sent to any other official or person in Washington will have to be returned to the sender. ## RED CROSS YARN FROM CAPPS MILLS

Plentiful Supply has been Arranged for at Price Below Market—Committee Fortunate in Securing the Amount Needed.

The directors of the Red Cross society have had some difficulty in securing enough yarn for the workers here. It has not only been difficult to secure the yarn but the price has been very high. Therefore they were greatly pleased to be able to make an arrangement with J. Capps & Sons for a large stock of yarn at a price below the market. T. M. Tomlinson of the Red Cross committee took the case up with H. M. Capps of the Capps firm and the resulting satisfactory arrangement was made. For a considerable period the Capps mill has not made yarns but when the matter was broached to them, after some investigation they determined that they could convert some of the worsted yarn they had on hand into knitting yarn and furnish it at a price considerably below the present market. The mill has already started the preparation of this yarn supply and so the Red Cross officials are in position to provide yarn for all who will engage in the knitting work.

The Red Cross society feels very fortunate in making the arrangement with the Capps mill and appreciates the willingness of the management to turn over the supply to the committee, especially since this is done at a price lower than the yarn would command if marketed thru other channels.

BIG CROWD AT OPENING
PAN-AMERICAN FACTORY

Visitors from Central Illinois and Distant States View With Interest Plant and Products of Decatur Industry—Four Complete Cars Shown.

The Pan-American Motors Corporation held its formal opening of the new automobile factory in the Chamber of Commerce Addition at Decatur, Illinois, recently. The opening started at 10 o'clock A. M., and ran through the day until 10 P. M. Interest shown in this wonderful new plant erected for the purpose of manufacturing and placing before the public a high grade reasonably priced automobile, was attested by the immense crowds, which inspected the plant and its product during the day and evening. It is estimated that at least 20,000 people showed their interest in the accomplishments of the Pan-American Motors Corporation by visiting the plant during the hours of the formal opening.

The large number included not only citizens of Decatur but from all over central Illinois, while there were a number of visitors from as far away as Nebraska, Wyoming, Montana and Mississippi and other distant points. The corporation provided roses for the ladies, cigars for the men and punch and music for everybody. Nothing was left undone to make the welcome a most hearty one.

Officials of the company were on duty showing the factory building and its equipment to all who called. Decaturites flocked to the plant in street cars and automobiles while hundreds toured to the plant from all the neighboring cities and towns in central Illinois—Springfield, Jacksonville, Bloomington, Quincy, and other large cities showing their interest. From Chicago, that they might be present at the opening came a number of stockholders and from as far away as Beatrice, Neb., others came by train and automobiles. Among officials of the firm on hand to see that everybody was taken care of properly were A. E. Patchin and C. V. Morse.

Cars in different stages of construction were shown and to make it easy for the spectators to understand what stage of the work the machine was in, each car was labeled, indicating what part of the mechanical equipment was added on that particular frame. Starting from the bare frame the signs showed the following, added progressively: Springs, axles, steering gear, motor, propeller, shaft, brake rods, radiator, wheels, grease and body test. On the floor stood four completed cars. The finished cars were set down the middle of the big main factory floor and were admired by the thousands who streamed past them. The very size of the building dwarfed the crowd and a score of people on the big floor were easily swallowed up by the crowd and the distance.

action that would show its earnestness in the matter of neutrality. Von Eckhardt's part in the latest chapter has been no surprise. This government has known of his activities long before the discovery of the evidence given by the Zimmermann note and since then his activities in propaganda have been watched carefully. That he was heading a big organization that had for its object not only propaganda, but espionage has been suspected and those suspicions have been conveyed to the Mexican foreign office in the hope that it might take steps that would check any violation of neutrality.

THE NEW SALES
SYSTEM AT TAYLOR'S.

The new sales system inaugurated at Taylor's West State street grocery this week is proving popular with the public. The plan is based on a rice system which gives certain privileges to the purchaser who enters the store and takes the purchases with him without occasioning a delivery cost. The customer who pays cash is also given certain privileges and the result of the larger amount of cash business and the lesser amount of deliveries enables the store to offer lower prices on all goods to the public.

The Taylor store handles only groceries of dependable quality and all these goods are now marked in plain figures. A comparative list of prices makes it very plain what a considerable percentage of saving the customer of the store may effect by paying cash and taking the goods along. However, where delivery is desired, the charge of 5 cents will be found exceedingly reasonable. If you haven't previously read about this new sales plan it will pay you to visit the Taylor store.

VETERANS CAN GO TO PEACE JUBILEE FREEMen Who Fought at Vicksburg to Be Guests of Nation and State—
Application Blanks Received Here.

At the last session of the general assembly in Illinois an act was passed appropriating $40,000 to provide transportation and incidentals for veterans of this state who served in the campaign and siege of Vicksburg who may desire to attend the memorial reunion and peace jubilee at Vicksburg Oct. 16-19. The adjutant general was charged with the responsibility of carrying out the provisions of the law. Adjutant Dickson is therefore seeking to find out how many such surviving veterans are now resident in this state and are desirous of attending the jubilee. To that end blanks have been sent out into the different localities of the state which are to be filled out by the veterans who wish to attend. Such blanks have been received at the Journal office and any interested veterans may obtain one. The application for transportation must be signed by the applicant in the presence of a notary. The application must set forth the number of the applicant's regiment and some other facts about his war record.

The U. S. government made an appropriation of $150,000 to be used in the preparation of a suitable camp and the necessary garrison equipment, tents, bedding, medical attendance, subsistence, etc., for all honorably discharged Civil war veterans both Union and Confederate who attend this national memorial reunion of the Blue and the Gray. Since the different states have provided transportation and the federal government all accommodations and subsistence at Vicksburg, the veterans will have the opportunity of attending this great reunion absolutely without personal expense.

Nebraska, 4,164,000 a decrease of 6 percent; Missouri 3,805,000, a decrease of ten percent; Illinois 3,766,000, a decrease of 10 percent; Ohio, 3,361,000, a decrease of 6 percent; Texas 2,583,000 a decrease of 20 percent and Georgia 2,507,000 an increase of 3 percent. The only other states to show increases were Mississippi with 4 percent and Virginia with one percent.

The first conference report is expected to deal largely with general questions without specific action except possibly on undisputed revision. The principal contests will come over the war profits, income, postage and inheritance sections.

The house members are expected to stand out for the pre-war graduated war profits system and for higher rates on "swollen" profits and large incomes. Elimination of the senate parcel post stamp tax provision also will be sought and there may be a fight for the second class postage increase. Many of the senate's revisions are expected to be accepted by the house and a large number of important provisions are not in dispute, the senate having made no changes.

MORTUARY

Stout.

Word was received in Jacksonville yesterday of the death of Charles W. Stout, which occurred at Libertyville, Ill., at six o'clock Wednesday morning. Mr. Stout had been ill for some time and while his death was not unexpected yet it came more quickly than his friends and relatives expected. Shortly after he arose Wednesday morning he complained that he was not feeling well and sat on a chair to rest a little and within a very few minutes breathed his last. The deceased will be remembered by many of the older residents of Jacksonville, as he at one time lived in this city. He was about 65 years of age at the time of his death and was the son of Rev. J. M. Stout, Milton E. Stout, a brother, and Mrs. Ed Jackson, a sister, both former residents here, preceded him in death. His first wife, who was a Miss Plattner of Winchester, died many years ago. He is survived by his widow and one son, Earl, who was born of the first marriage.

Mr. Stout lived in Chicago for many years, after leaving Jacksonville, later moving to Libertyville. He was a man respected by all who knew him and was considered one of the reputable and upright men of the communities in which he resided. The funeral will be held Sunday at noon at Libertyville and the interment will be at Forest Home Cemetery, Chicago.

Jacksonville Chapter, No. 3, R. A. M., will hold a special convocation this evening at 7:30 o'clock. Work in M. M. degree. Alexander Rabjohns, E. H. P.

CROWD SAW MAN RESCUED FROM TOWER

Seemingly Dazed He Climbed to a Great Height and Fell on Platform—Companion Lowered Him to Safety.

(By the Captain.)

It was nearing the hour of six o'clock in the evening and the artisans who had been busily engaged in the erection of the electric light tower had ceased their labors and taken their departure. The erection of the tower was of such moment that almost all of the citizens were interested in the improvement and many watched the progress of the workmen for hours at a time.

On the evening referred to there were many of the citizens promenading in the park where the tower was going up, enjoying the refreshing breezes that usually follow after the close of a hot sultry day, and a number of children were gathered at the foot of the tower engaged in games dear to childish hearts. While their fun was at its height one of the little ones pointing down the street cried out, "We must go home, there comes a drunken man," and the little band of youngsters sought protection among their elders. Sure enough coming into the park a man was observed, a man who to all appearances was under the influence of intoxicating liquors.

Apparently scarcely able to walk and with his arms swinging above his head, resembling the motion of the wings of windmill the man, who was a stranger in the city, continued on his way until he reached the foot of the tower, here seemingly he stood for a moment to regain his breath and equilibrium. By this time quite a number of persons had gathered about the man and were debating the question as to what steps should be taken to prevent the intoxicated individual from attempting to climb the tower, should such a foolhardy thought enter his befuddled mind.

Climbs Tower Ladder.

Before a decision had been reached, the man throws off his coat and hat, and before a restraining hand can be stretched out the man sprang up the tower ladder and in the space of a few seconds is fully fifty feet above the ground, and out of the reach of anyone who might endeavor to prevent his further ascension.

By this time the reported action of the man had been noised abroad throughout the portion of the city near the business section and the park and nearby streets were filled with a dense crowd who are all watching the ascent of the man on his seemingly perilous climb. Occasionally the man's feet slip off the ladder, but he clings with his hands, sometimes he is holding on by one hand and it looks as if he most certainly will fall.

The watchers hold their breath with anxiety and talk in whispers. Now the climber has lost his hand holds and is swinging around under the ladder and holding on by his feet only. Now he has regained his former position and is still going upward. The police department and fire fighters have representatives on the grounds who are watching proceedings with interest but have not arrived at any plan that appears feasible for rescuing the seeming lunatic from his perilous situation. It would be a foolhardy experiment for anyone to make a successful attempt to bring down in safety an intoxicated man from such a height and in his condition, and no one desires to make the attempt. All that can be done is to note his actions.

Falls Headlong onto Platform. Now the man has almost gained the top, but not quite, and his feet have slipped and it looks as if he will certainly fall, but no, he has clasped his arms around the iron rods and has regained his footing and is still climbing. Now he has reached the platform on the top and is ready to take the last step when he again slips and the anxious watchers in breathless silence continue their gaze as if fascinated. Now the man is ready to climb on to the platform and when he has taken the last step he loses all holds and falls headlong onto the platform, with his head and arms projecting over one edge while his feet are in a similar position at the opposite side of the platform.

Men stand silent with blanched faces, women and children are many of them in tears, while several women have fainted from the excitement and anxiety of the moment. To all appearances the climber has fallen into a drunken stupor as he has not moved since he fell onto the platform. What to do, no one has suggested, in fact it appears as if nothing can be done, the case is a hopeless one. It is growing later all the time and twilight is rapidly approaching and the scene will be shrouded in darkness when nothing can be done.

Suddenly there is a commotion in the entrance to the park, and a loud voice is heard crying for room that he may get to the tower, and in a brief time a man who held a coil of rope about his waist and some leather straps over his shoulders reaches the foot of the tower. Throwing off his coat and hat he cried out "I will save him or perish in the attempt." Springing onto the narrow ladder the would be rescuer is soon on his upward climb of two hundred feet. Lowered to Ground by Rope. In a brief time he has attained the top and stepping onto the platform attaches the straps to the imperiled man. Without hesitating for a moment he makes fast to the strap the coil or rope and pushes the man off the platform and gently lowers him to the ground. The rescued man with a word of thanks to his preserver, detaches himself from the straps and ropes and staggers down the street and is seen no more.

The rescuer is now coming slowly down the ladder. The crowd now that the tension is relieved greet the man, who has become a "hero" in their estimation with great shouting and clapping of hands. When the man has descended to a height of perhaps fifty feet above the heads of his well wishers he stopped and seemingly was enjoying the scene.

Then holding up his hand to stay the noise, which was stilled at his request, he said, "Ladies and Gentlemen: I wish to tender to you one and all the sincere thanks of my partner and myself for the kind manner in which you have this evening shown your interest and appreciation of the practical manner in which we gave you an exhibition of the working of our new fire escape apparatus. If you or any of you wish to consult us further in regard to its working with a view to securing a set we will be pleased to have you call at the Blank hotel where we are temporarily stopping." And the crowd dispersed saying it "was a good show if we were sold."

After Preliminary Work at Belleville Camp Aviators Will Go to Other Fields for Advanced Work—Visitors not Allowed on Grounds.

Belleville, Ill., Sept. 17.—One hundred and fifty cadets began training Sept. 10 at the government aviation field near here. In addition 300 enlisted men are at the dormitories. The training ground is to be equipped with high-speed aeroplanes and the cadets will be given intensive training—so intensive that visitors will not be allowed on the grounds.

On every day except Sunday there will be three hours of flying at the camp and in addition the cadets will be trained in wireless telegraphy and the use of aeroplane rifle, and machine guns. After preliminary training in the art of flying here, the aviators will be sent for advanced work to other fields in this country and then to France for finishing touches.

The cadets are candidates for the rank of first lieutenant in the aviation section, officers reserve corps. The enlisted men include mechanics, repairers, lathe hands and wood-workers.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT SMITH FUNERAL

Sorrowing Relatives and Friends Fill Methodist Church at Winchester—Other Scott County News

Winchester, Ill., Sept. 13.—The funeral of Miss Ruby Smith occurred Thursday afternoon at three o'clock at the Methodist church. The large auditorium and Sunday school rooms were filled with sorrowing relatives and friends. The members of the Woman's Club attended in a body. The choir of the church opened the service with the hymn, "Beautiful River." Then followed a very fervent prayer by the Rev. G. E. Frewitt, pastor of the Christian church. The scripture was read by Rev. C. W. Casely, pastor of the Methodist church, after which a solo was sung by Mrs. Harry Martin, entitled, "Saved by Grace." Rev. Casely read the obituary and followed with a very impressive sermon. The choir closed the service with the hymn, "One Sweetly Solenn Thought." The profusion of beautiful flowers was cared for by Mrs. George Cowhick, Misses Leah Cowper, Charlotte Casely, Dorothy Hainsfurther, Amelia Heironymus, Nellie Lashmet, Mrs. Edna Jobush of Taylorville, and Mrs. Roy Stein of Roodhouse. The pall bearers were Robert Connelly and Roy Stein of Roodhouse, Roy Thompson, George Cowhick, Guy Paul and Fritz Haskell. Burial was made in Winchester cemetery. ## PHYSICIAN TO BE CHARGED WITH MANSLAUGHTER

Will Have Preliminary Hearing in Court in Connection with Death of Mrs. Christine Gordon—Case Has Many Unusual Features.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 13.—Elements seldom found outside the pages of fiction are presented in the case of George A. Fritch, well known Detroit physician, who is to have a preliminary examination in court tomorrow on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of Mrs. Christine Gordon, following an illegal operation.

The story has its beginning in 1908, just eight years ago this month, when a pretty little "college widow," Mabel Millman, of a well-known Michigan family, resented the influences of high culture met death in an effort to prevent her family and acquaintances from learning of her indiscretion. The gruesome method to which the illegal practitioner to whom she had gone in her trouble resorted in an attempt to hide his part in her death caused her name to be banded all over the world.

Facts in Case Were Hidden. Dr. Fritch was arrested on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the crime. He was arrested shortly after the dismembered body of the girl, whose home was at Ann Arbor, was taken from a deep creek near this city. His original arrest was ordered on a charge of suspected murder. The facts in the case had been so carefully hidden that even circumstantial evidence sufficient to hold him without bail was lacking. After a few days' incarceration he was released on bonds signed by some of the most influential men of his home city.

Meanwhile the police set to work to uncover positive proof of the physician's guilt. Mabel Millman was traced to the office of Dr. Fritch, where she went in company with her girl chum, the night before she disappeared on Aug. 27, 1909. She was also traced to the same physician's office on the afternoon of the day she is supposed to have died.

The missing link in the evidence was furnished by a chauffeur, who confessed that he had assisted Dr. Fritch in conveying three bags similar in size, shape and weight to those in which the portions of Miss Millman's body were found, to a bridge over Boorse Creek, not far from the spot where the dismembered body was discovered.

Despite the convincing proof in the hands of the authorities it was found a most difficult matter to convict the accused physician and make him pay the legal penalty for his alleged crimes. With the wealth and influence at his command he took advantage of every twist and turn of the law in an effort to escape going to trial. When, after having exhausted every legal resource, he finally faced the bar, he was defended by the best legal talent that money could procure. The trial was bitterly fought on both sides. In the end the physician was convicted and sentenced to the penitentiary.

Appeals were taken and other well known methods adopted to delay the beginning of the sentence. But in the course of time the physician was taken to State prison, to begin his long sentence.

Reverse Verdict of Trial Court. Before he had been many days behind the bars, however, the verdict of the trial court was reversed on a technicality by the higher tribunal and a new trial of the case was ordered. Thereupon Dr. Fritch, as dapper and self-confident as before his conviction, was returned to Detroit to be tried again.

The second trial, as is often the case, resulted in an acquittal of the accused. That night, following the conclusion of the trial, Dr. Fritch, in a spirit of jubilation following his regaining of his freedom, entertained the members of the jury at a sumptuous dinner at one of the prominent downtown hotels.

And now comes the denouement, and the strangest part of the story. The foreman of the jury, who sat at the head of the table that night and enjoyed the hospitality of Dr. Fritch, is the father of Mrs. Christine Gordon, for whose death under circumstances similar to the Millman case, Dr. Fritch is now to answer to the law.

ATHLETICS PROGRESSING AT LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL

Students Fortunate in Having Two Experienced Men to Coach Them This Year—No School Today.

Athletic work is starting early at the Jacksonville high school this year, and yesterday afternoon saw a bunch of promising huskies romping over the Illinois College gridiron, getting the kinks out of their muscles and going thru a general hardening-up work out. The local high is fortunate this year, in having, for the first time in the history of the school, the services of two experienced men as coaches. Raymond Hufford, who had charge of athletics last year, is added this year by Coach W. S. Hoover. Hoover is an all round athlete himself and will be a decided asset to the local school in the line of athletic endeavor. He is not unfamiliar with the I. C. field as he has several times performed there with the Millikin university football teams, which have visited here. He has played at end and in the back field. For the past two years he has had charge of athletics at the Shelbyville high school and there has proven his merit in this work. His basketball teams especially have displayed prowess under his tutelage.

Alton Comes Sept. 29.
Two weeks from tomorrow, Sept. 29, the local boys will have their first gridiron scrap with the Alton high school players in this city. One week after the Alton game, on Oct. 5th, comes the Springfield game. It will be played at Springfield and promises to be one of the hardest battles on the local schedule. The Alton game will be no soft and easy snap for Jacksonville and every moment that can be utilized for practice will be taken advantage of.

There will be no classes at any of the grade or high school buildings today, in order to give the teachers and pupils, who desire to attend the state fair, a chance to avail themselves of the opportunity. The most of the football boys, however, will be at I. C. field this morning at nine o'clock, where regular practice will be in order.

Yesterday afternoon practice was had in kicking and throwing the ball about as well as regular formation and team work. Among the boys on the field in uniform yesterday were: David Smith, Harry Germain, Harry Garvin, Clifford Carlson, Sydney Hoblett, Arthur Green, Glidden Reeve, John Fierke, Capt. Harold Ferguson, David Gustafson, Roscoe Smith, Francis Reynolds, Wallace Smith, Egbert Hunt, William Cruzan, Charles Cobb, Russell Banto, Harvey Gunn and Lester Reagan.

WILL CUT LABOR COST AT INSTITUTIONS

MEN FROM STATE HOSPITAL TO WORK ELSEWHERE.

Will Have Duties at Schools for the Deaf and Blind—Dairy Herd at Blind Will be Moved to Hospital—Program of Retrenchment also Means Various Changes.

The policy of retrenchment which the state department of public welfare announced sometime ago with reference to the state institutions is to be applied along new lines. Charles H. Thorne, chairman of the department, and Frank D. Whipp, fiscal supervisor, were in Jacksonville recently and met at Jacksonville State hospital Dr. E. L. Hill, superintendent of the hospital, Charles P. Gillett, superintendent of the School for the Deaf, and R. W. Woolston, superintendent elect of State School for the Blind, to talk over plans of consolidating some of the work done in connection with the state institutions here.

The purpose, of course, is to release a number of workers and thus cut down the state's payroll. The idea of the director of the department is that there are many men being cared for at Jacksonville State hospital who could readily help out with the physical work done at the School for the Deaf and the School for the Blind. If such work can be done satisfactorily by these men it will be beneficial to them and at the same time effect a saving for the state. The plan of operation has not been fully worked out but details will no doubt be developed rapidly.

Will Unite Herds.

It was decided, however, to remove the herd of cows from the School for the Blind to the state hospital, where they will be cared for with the cows of the hospital herd. The milk needed for the School for the Blind will be taken to the school each day by employees of the hospital. It is believed that in this way the cost of maintaining the herd can be reduced and there will be practically no expense for the hauling of the milk cans from the state hospital to the school for the blind.

The plan may be tried out of having state hospital workers attend to the milking of the herd at the State School for the Deaf. It is also contemplated to use men from the hospital for some work on the lawns of the I. S. D. and also upon the farm.

Two Benefits.

As indicated, the director of the department has two ideas in this program, one, to benefit the inmates of the state hospital by providing them regular outdoor employment, and the other to cut down labor cost for the state. Just how far the plan will be carried into effect will develop in passing weeks, and it is the intention to try out various lines of work in this way and if the results are satisfactory then like efforts will be made along other lines.

The experiment will certainly be interesting and indicates quite clearly that the department has entered very seriously upon a program of retrenchment.

LIBRARY ASSOCIATION TO LAUNCH NEW CAMPAIGN

One Million Dollars Must be Raised to Provide Books for Soldiers.

Miss Barrette, librarian at the Jacksonville public library, Thursday received a letter from the War Service Committee of the American Library Association at Washington, stating that at a meeting of the committee the War Finance committee had outlined a plan for a campaign to procure one million dollars to finance the war service of the American Library Association.

The selection of the library association by the war department as the organization to undertake the work of providing books for the camps is one of the most significant things in the history of this association.

To insure the success of this project the hearty co-operation of every librarian in the country is needed and asked.

It is the plan now under contemplation to raise the money needed for this work by asking an amount from each community equal to five per cent of its population. Jacksonville will therefore be expected to raise between $500 and $900 for the association.

Campaign plans, now under preparation for Jacksonville, will be announced later.

DISTRICT BOARD —ASKS FOR DETAILS

Sends to Adams County for More Testimony to Support Numerous Claims for Exemption.

According to the following statement from the Quincy Herald the district exemption board has had occasion to refer back many exemption claims to the Adams county board. So far as now recorded the district board has allowed but one exemption on appeal from the local board of Morgan county and that was with the entire consent of the board here. The Morgan county board made a determined effort to follow the law explicitly and the result indicates how carefully the plan was followed. Here is the statement with reference to the Quincy board:

"The district exemption board thinks it just a little bit strange that Adams county should have so many partnership farms, and so many dependent parents, and so many young married men whose wives are absolutely dependent upon them. They have referred back a number of appeal claims with comments upon these conditions and asked for more definite information. 'People who discuss the exemptions granted and the exemptions refused and who find fault with the work of the city exemption board, county board, or the district board, should do their talking to the appeal officers, the city attorney, or the state's attorney. These officers are required with the district board to furnish the very information which many people seem to know and which many people give out freely in private conversations with other people. If those who know of reasons why appeals should be granted or should not be granted, will supply the information to the appeal officer, it will greatly aid him in his work and much more nearly satisfy the district board.'

"In all cases the exemption boards city, county and district, are compelled to rely on the information before them and much information that should reach them probably never does get to them, largely because the people who possess it will not make it known to the proper officers.

Sends Back Many Cases.

"The district board sets the county appeal officer, who is the state's attorney, an almost impossible task when it refers back to him as it has done lately, a bunch of twenty-five or thirty cases scattered all over the county, demanding of him circumstances of the appellants—demanding to know if the appellant's wife is really dependent upon him or if her parents are really able to keep her; if the appellant's parents cannot get along without his work on the farm; if the other partner cannot conduct the farm unless the appellant works with him. Much of this information should be volunteered by those who know the circumstances and who criticize decisions of the board after they are made."

MINISTER FLAYS WARTIME PROFITEERS

Rev. Arthur Carriel Preached Notable Sermon at Bayfield—Character Must Win the War.

At Bayfield, Wis., recently Rev. Arthur Carriel delivered an especially strong sermon on the theme, "The Nation's Strength is Character." It was a sermon strong in Americanism and gave no comfort to the disloyal. In unsparring words he assailed the wartime profiteers. The sermon attracted special attention because of its unusual forcefulness and patriotic sentiments and Duluth papers devoted a considerable space to reports. Some paragraphs from the excellent discourse are given herewith:

"It was fortunate that the enemy's spies among us found traitors lower down—among those who under the cloak of want demand the outrageous wages of $6 a day, and who to gain their end are willing to destroy food and property and sow the seeds of internal strife.

"Character is the strength of the nation. Character alone will keep politics out of the draft and the selection of officers. Character alone will guard the food of the people and provide for soldier and citizen an adequate supply of good food at a reasonable price. Character alone will look after the health and morals of our boys in khaki, protecting them not only from the poison gas of the trench but also from the more fatal poisons of drink and lust which follow their camp.

"We are seeing every day that character, not wealth is the strength of the nation. As poverty is often the father of generosity, so greed is often the child of wealth. The hope today of this great nation is not that many have much, but it is that many are true; it is that on the hearth of the American home burns the fire of love of country. The fire has been neglected in luxurious years of peace, but the war draft has fanned it to a flame.

"Thank God we have a president who was not willing to play politics at his country's risk—as some mayers are doing. I doubt not that most any sum of money could have been his. It was fortunate that the enemy's spies among us found traitors lower down—among those who under the cloak of want demand the outrageous wages of $6 a day and who to gain their end are willing to destroy food and property and sow the seeds of internal strife. Let us be vigilant, and pay all traitors in traitor's coin; but let us also comfort ourselves by realizing that the strength of the nation is not gold nor love of gold, but that among the millions of Americans true hearts send through our veins the blood of father and grandfather, who more than they loved gold loved country, who owned allegiance first to conscience and to God. 'For as a man is, so is his strength.'

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WELFARE WORK DEFINED

Vast Sum Expended Annually For Maintenance of Charitable and Penal Institutions of State—Methods of Other States Are Studied.

The Illinois Department of Public Welfare expends $6,600,000 annually for the maintenance of the charitable and penal institutions of the State. In these institutions are 28,000 inmates and 4,000 employees. Charles H. Thorne is the director of the department. J. E. McClure is the assistant director. The entire charity, penal and reformatory service of the state is administered thru this bureau.

Until 1909 each institution had its own board of managers and its own method of operation. In 1909 the charitable group, including the hospitals for the insane, the institutions for defective and delinquent children for soldiers and their families and for the adult blind were placed under a central board of control, the Board of Administration.

The three penal institutions at Joliet, Chester and Pontiac continued the system of individual boards. Under the provisions of the Administrative Code, the Department of Public Welfare July 1, assumed control of the charitable group, the three prisons, the state board of pardons and paroles, the department of the visitation of children and the department of the visitation and instruction of the blind.

Department's Inspection Powers
The Department has the power of inspection over jails, almshouses, workhouses, city prisons, maternity homes, private hospitals for the insane, orphanages, county hospitals and private charity agencies which appeal to the public for funds. The inspection powers of the Department extend over institutions with an average daily population of 25,000.

The executive work of the department is in four divisions with a superintendent for each division. The divisions are fiscal, charities, prisons and pardons and paroles. The Superintendents are responsible to the Director.

The fiscal supervisor, Frank D. Whipp, has charge of finances, accounting, statistics, requisitions, supplies and business operation of all institutions.

The superintendent of charities, A. L. Bowen, has charge of all institutions in the charitable group, the department of the visitation of children, the department of the visitation and instruction of the adult blind.

The Cost of Operation.
In the charitable group are ten hospitals for the insane with a population of 18,000, the institutions for defective and delinquent children with a population of 2,300; the soldiers' institutions, population 1,400; the school and colony for feeble-minded with a population of 2,000, and the home for the blind and the Eye and Ear Infirmary with a population of 300. The cost of operation of these institutions is $5,000,000 a year.

The department of the visitation of children of which Charles Virden is chief inspects the orphanages and the homes in which children are placed by the courts. Four thousand children in family homes are on the roll of the department. The orphanage population is 7,000. The cost of maintenance of this department is $15,000 a year.

Blind Are Made Self Supporting.
The department of the visitation of the adult blind of which Charles E. Comstock is agent provides in the homes of the blind the instruction necessary to make these persons capable of self support. The average number of persons aided each year by this department is 200. The cost of maintenance is $8,000 a year.

The inspection and licensing of private hospitals for the insane and of maternity homes is in charge of the superintendent of charities.

The state alienist, Dr. H. Douglas Singer, is the advisor of the superintendent of charities on all questions relating to the care and treatment of the insane.

The superintendent of prisons, John L. Whitman, has charge of the penitentiaries of Joliet and Chester and of the Reformatory at Pontiac. There are 1,800 prisoners at Joliet, 1,200 at Chester and 1,000 at Pontiac. The cost of maintenance of the prisons is $1,400,000 a year.

The State Criminologist, Dr. Herman M. Adler, acts as advisor to the superintendent on all questions concerning the inmates of the prisons.

The superintendent of pardons and paroles, Will Colvin, is assisted in pardon hearings by the criminologists, the superintendent of prisons and the assistant director of the department. In parole hearings, he is assisted by the criminologist, the superintendent of prisons and the parole officers. The annual cost of the division of pardons and paroles is $15,000.

Serve Without Compensation.
The Board of Welfare Commissioners is the advisory board of the department of public welfare. The members are appointed by the Governor and serve without compensation. The only salaried officers are the executive secretary and the inspector of institutions. The Board has been in existence since 1869.

Until 1909 it was designated the State Board of Charities. In 1909 it became the State Charities Commission, July 1, 1917, it became the Welfare Commission. Dr. E. C. Dudley of Chicago is president, Miss Annie Hinrichsen is executive secretary.

This commission investigates the entire system of public relief and makes recommendations to the department and to the governor concerning institution policies. Methods of other states are studied with a view of inaugurating them into the Illinois public service. The commission inspects all state institutions operated by the department of Public Welfare, the jails, lock-ups, city prisons, almshouses, county hospitals, methods of outdoor relief distribution and private charity agencies and collects and compiles statistics of crime and insanity. The annual cost of maintenance is $12,000.

JURY RETURNS VERDICT IN HARNEY DEATH

Stomach Analysis Revealed Nothing of Sensational Kind—Coroner Examined More Witnesses.

The jury empaneled by Coroner Rose to inquire into the cause of the death of Robert Harney which occurred on August 29, reconvened Thursday and returned a verdict that death resulted from general paralysis the cause being unknown to the jury.

Report on Stomach Analysis.
Robert Harney was found lying unconscious in a field near his home northwest of Murreysville on the morning of August 29 and died a few hours later. Coroner Rose empaneled a jury to hear the evidence. It was then decided to send the stomach away for analysis. This was done and the jury adjourned until the result of the analysis was received.

Yesterday Coroner Rose went to the Harney home and reconvened the jury. He was accompanied by State's Attorney Carl E. Robinson and deputy sheriff George Stice. The analysis of the stomach did not show the presence of anything that would likely cause death.

The testimony of a number of witnesses was taken. In his testimony Dr. C. McMahon of Manchester who was called and who performed the autopsy said there was congestion of the stomach and there was a trace of some irritant.

No New Light on Case.
The testimony of Ruth Cockerill, Walter Lawson, Fred Cockerill, W. E. Harney, Dr. C. E. Waters, A. W. Weder, Mrs. W. E. Harney, Mary Harney, Dr. J. H. Spencer, John W. Mandeville and Jerry Flynn was taken but did not throw much light on the case. Ruth Cockerill who was with Young Harney and rode home with him from the Woodson picnic testified that he ate some candy and smoked a few cigarettes before leaving her home.

Mrs. Earl Spink has recovered from a recent indisposition and is able to be at her post in the office of Strawn and Spink.

Lemons Beautify!

Strain lemon juice well before mixing and massage face,
neck, arms, hands.

Here is told how to prepare an inexpensive lemon lotion which can be used to bring back to any skin the sweet freshness of which it has been robbed by trying atmospheric conditions. Wind-chafed roughness, tan and redness are washed off and those tell-tale lines of care or of age are softened away.

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quart of the most remarkable cream the most pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold cream.
Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months.
Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan, and is the ideal skin softener, smoothen and beautifier.
Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands, and see for yourself.—Adv.

BASEBALL GOSSIP

'Tis said the Brooklyn Dodgers'
payroll exceeds $90,000. And no world's series money in sight this year.

It might be said that the Braves diminutive shortstop, Rabbit Maranville, missed the draft by inches.
Owne Bush of the Detroit Tigers was the first big leaguer to reach the century mark in runs this season.

Too bad Ty Cobb couldn't hit for 400 or 500 this season. If he could he might have escaped reading about his going back next spring.

Pitcher Dan Tipton, who essayed to chuck for the Yankees once upon a time, is now twirling for Baltimore, and doing a first-class job.

Duffy Lewis has been coming thru with the stick of late. The Red Sox gardener being the only Boston regular found among the 300 wall-lopers.

Meeting the Indians, the Tigers and the Browns in succession looked like a tough proposition for the White Sox. But it only looked that way.

Box scores of the Cubs' games are still printed in Chicago, which shows that the sport of the White Sox has not lessened interest in the Cubs' game fight to stick in the league.

The Cincinnati Reds trim the Giants and then lose four straight to the Pirates. Perhaps this is the season the Reds have not won a pennant in 41 years.

Connie Mack made no mistake when he rescued Ping Bodie from the Pacific Coast league. Ping is in line to close the season with the best record of any of the Mackmen.

As the matters now stand the Cardinals and Browns will be the only big leaguers to stage a city series this fall. St. Louis fans should be extended the sympathy of the entire pastime world.

Despite the absence of a 300
swatter and a pitcher among the half dozen topnotchers, the Phillies have been able to show class even if they don't split any world's series money.

Recent averages show that the Giants have it on the White Sox in batting, but the Sox hold the secret of winning games without the assistance of heavy artillery.

The Yankees put the White Sox out of the pennant race last year and have done their dullest to duplicate the trick against the Red Sox
this season.

Managing a ball team looks to be the right job for Paddy Livingston.
Since taking up the burden at Milwaukee the old Athletics' backstop has succeeded in piloting the Brewers out of the cellar and up a couple of notches in the American association race.

Larry Lajoie is having the time of his young life as manager of the Toronto team. The Leafs have been the sensation of the International league season, while the veteran slugger himself has clouted the ball savagely.

Eleven batters in the American league and seven in the National form the select circle of 300 in the big show sluggers.

In addition to his salary Chief Bender, the Phillies' veteran pitcher is given an extra $50 for each victory that he scores.

Ernie Shore, the Red Sox heaver, has done little in the pitching line
since he held Washington to no hits in a game last June.

Pitcher Toney and Pitcher
Schneider of the Cincinnati Reds have each taken part in more than thirty games this season.

What could be sadder than a flock of gamblers with the Browns while fighting for a pennant? The White Sox answer "nuthin."

Joe Finker is a sort of an extra hand as well as manager of the Columbus team. The old Cub shortstop plays anywhere, infield or outfield, when his team is short, a pastime.

Tex Covington, who returns to the big show as a member of the Boston Braves, is battling with Ham Hyatt, another former big top, for the Southern league batting honors.

Having starred in "One Touch of Nature", Jonathan McGraw now has material for a second "fillum", entitled "One Touch of Coin", with the National league directors doing the heavy lifting.

Jesse Buckles, a young southpaw
from the Delaware County league, is having a trial with the Phillies.
Manager Moran believes the kid has the right stuff if properly developed.

The Indianapolis Indians are the Giants of the American

SITUATION ACUTE IN IRON AND STEEL TRADE

Statement Issued by Chamber of Commerce of United States Reveals Unusual Trade Conditions.

The authorities of the Council of National Defense believe that the iron and steel situation should be understood by every business man in the country. It can be set forth in a few words, but directly or indirectly it affects all business. Business policy everywhere should be developed with full regard to this fundamental condition.

War Requirements.

The requirements of iron and steel in the prosecution of the war can hardly be exaggerated. Figures cannot be given but the broad statement can be made that the utmost which can be produced is below the requirements of the United States government and its allies and of business close ly related to the war. This condition will continue; for on the one hand no substantial increase in production is anticipated,—in fact even maximum production from existing facilities cannot be expected because transportation, labor and material conditions will interfere with the full operation of plants,—and, on the other hand, indications are that the war requirements will continue to increase.

Uses in War.

The direct requirements of the government for pig iron are relatively small, but the requirements for steel are enormous and iron is therefore required in corresponding quantities. Steel is needed in the war for ships, railroad cars and locomotives, rails, trucks, containers, etc. Furthermore, there are the requirements for shells and other munitions work,—requirements large in tonnage, far beyond what is generally supposed. In addition, business closely related to war, i. e., business producing government materials and supplies, the necessities of life and the materials for producing the necessities of life, require steel in great quantities for buildings, machinery, tools, containers, etc. When all these requirements are met little if any steel will be left for so-called general business.

Supply.

With no other metal is the condition as disturbing as with iron and steel. Even the supply of copper is not nearly so inadequate. Materials which can be used in substitution for steel are plentiful in comparison. Lumber may be expected to meet all requirements and cement may be had in quantity for concrete work. While there may be delays in these cases a hopeless shortage does not exist.

HOUSEWORK IS A BURDEN

Woman's lot is a weary one at best. But with backache and other distressing kidney ills life indeed becomes a burden. Doan's Kidney Pills have made life brighter for many Jacksonville women. Read what Mrs. A. Long of 900 Beeley Ave., Jacksonville, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are the best kidney remedy I have ever used and I have recommended them to many people. I took Doan's Kidney Pills for lameness across my back which was so bad I could hardly get through with my housework. My kidneys weren't acting right either. I was advised to use Doan's Kidney Pills and I got some at Alcott's Drug Store. They soon removed the complaint and I haven't noticed any symptoms of that trouble since."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Long had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Corn Pain Stopped Quick

Corns Lift Right Off With "Geta-It"

Blessed relief from corn pains is simple as A B C with "Geta-It." When you've been limping around for days trying to get away from a heart-drilling corn or bumpy callus, and everything you've tried has only made it worse, and then you put some "Geta-It" on and the pain ceases right away, and the corn peels right off like a banana skin—"ain't it a grand and heavenly feeling?"

"Geta-It" has revolutionized the corn history of the world. Millions use it and it never fails. Ladies wear smaller shoes and have pain-free feet. We old fellows and young fellows forget our toes and feel frisky as colts. Everybody with a corn or callus needs "Geta-It." We will all walk about and enjoy ourselves as we did without corns. Get a bottle today from your druggist, or sent on receipt of price, by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill. See to it all you need to pay.

Sold in Jacksonville and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by Armstrong's Drug Store, J. A. Obornmeyer & Son, and Coover & Shreve.—Adv.

Substitutions for Steel.

The course for business men to pursue is clear. Iron and steel should be used only when the requirement is unavoidable. Every effort should be made to use wood and concrete in place of steel whenever this can be done, and construction and development work requiring steel should be postponed wherever possible.

Course for Ordinary Business.

Where a business uses steel as a raw material and the product is not used in connection with the war, conservative men will now plan to use some substitute, and if this cannot be done they will doubtless plan to curtail or even to suspend operations during the war. It should be anticipated that the situation which is developing with rapidly will probably make it impossible for them to secure adequate supplies of steel and may even make it impossible to secure any supply.

Outstanding Contracts.

Apparently little will be gained by contracting ahead for steel. Experience today indicates that soon producers of steel must ship their product where required in connection with the war rather than on such contracts as they may have on their order books. When the production of railroad cars and locomotives is interfered with because necessary steel is going to industries producing pleasure automobiles, steel furniture buildings for amusement purposes, etc., the situation cannot be expected to continue.

Priority in Distribution.

Business men will probably make their plans in the expectation that soon there will be established an order of distribution of steel, and that the wild scramble to enter orders for future delivery of steel will be ineffective. In fact it will occur to many no doubt, that failure to recognize this situation may lead to unfortunate results. In a business requiring steel, if contracts are placed for future delivery, not only for steel but for other materials, the manufacturer may find that he cannot get the steel but can get the other materials. In this case he might find that he had on hand large quantities of materials which he could not use because he had no steel.

Local Sources for Materials.

In purchasing materials and supplies business men will doubtless consider the wisdom of returning, so far as possible, to doing business locally. The extraordinary service being rendered by the railroads in connection with the war will limit general transportation service and put an end during the war to the condition which has developed during the past fifty years thru the prompt and reliable transportation facilities afforded by the railroads. No longer can a man in Illinois rely upon Pennsylvania as a dependable source of supply for raw materials and equipment. For many commodities the railroads can no longer spare the equipment to bring distant points into close contact. Purchase must be made near at home wherever this can be done. The preference which must be given to shipments of iron and steel will soon make this situation of daily importance.

Information from Steel Producers.

For the particular information of those in the iron and steel business it may be said that the Council of National Defense wishes to hear from producers of iron and steel whenever output is limited thru transportation difficulties, or thru business conditions. Furthermore, pending the establishment of some method of distribution steel output according to war needs, producers of steel may render real service by assisting those producing war work to secure their steel requirements. Not only will this help win the war, but will tend toward less disturbance in business when steel supplies are shut off from those industries engaged in unessential production.

SENATOR BANKHEAD IS 75

Washington, D. C., Sept. 13.—Senator John H. Bankhead of Alabama, one of the veterans of the upper house, received the hearty congratulations of his colleagues today on the occasion of his seventy-fifth birthday anniversary. The venerable senator is hale and hearty for a man of his years and apparently undisturbed by the political rumors afloat in his home state that he is to have opposition when he comes up for re-election next year. It is 30 years since Mr. Bankhead first came to Washington, having commenced his career as a national lawmaker in 1887 as a member of the lower house. Twenty years later he was named United States senator to succeed the late Senator John T. Morgan.

TO EDUCATE PUBLIC IN VALUE OF MILCH GOAT

Governor Lowden Favors Appointing of Committee to Undertake Work—Expert to Investigate Goat Milk and Cheese Industry in European Countries.

Chicago, Sept. 17.—That the hitherto despised goat may aid materially in solving problems arising from war conditions by increasing the milk and cheese production is the opinion advanced by H. L. Hollister, publisher of a farm paper. Governor Lowden, of Illinois, is quoted as considering this theory sound.

The keeping of a goat or two may become as popular a way of doing our bit in the world war as planting a war garden, according to Mr. Hollister, who says that even the doorway or roadside may be profitably made to serve as a pasture for this animal. If you are a suburbanite, your goats will make you independent of the milkman and may enable you to slide safely thru tight times, resulting from sickness or lack of employment.

Do away with the useless family dog, Mr. Hollister urges us, and substitute the profitable goat. It is hardy, free from disease, adaptable to all conditions and is easily domesticated.

Some Swiss goats are hornless, have amiable dispositions that qualify them as pets, and often yield as much as six quarts of milk a day. At the present price of cow's milk, Mr. Hollister estimates such a goat would produce fully $160 a year.

The goat has a great advantage over the cow, in that it costs only about a fourth as much to maintain and gives milk ten months a year. The milk is easily digested and makes excellent food for the baby. Goat's flesh has the same food value as mutton.

Governor Lowden of Illinois, has asked Mr. Hollister to appoint a commission to investigate ways and means of educating the American public in the value of the milk goat. Mrs. C. H. Cahill, one of Mr. Hollister's experts is already on her way to Europe to investigate the extensive goat milk and cheese industry in various countries there. An attempt is being made to persuade governors of other states to take action similar to Governor Lowden's and thus bring about a concerted campaign to induce suburbanites, villagers and small farmers to take up goat raising and to make the milk goat a permanent American family institution.

ACCUSE ATTORNEY

OF DISLOYALTY
St. Paul, Sept. 13.—Albert Pfander, a well known attorney of New Ulm, has been summoned to appear here today before the ethics committee of the Minnesota State Bar association to answer to a charge of disloyalty. The charges were filed as a result of a speech made by Pfander at a meeting in New Ulm in which opposition to the sending of troops to Europe and other plans of the administration for the prosecution of the war was expressed.

The investigating committee, if Pfander is found guilty of disloyal conduct, contrary to his oath as a member of the bar, may recommend that he be dropped from the rolls of the association, and that the board of law examiners proceed in the state supreme court for disbarment.

W. J. Schaaf of Peoria was a representative of the distillery city in Jacksonville yesterday.

BUY YOUR LIBERTY SHEEP NOW

National Sheep and Wool Bureau Has Established a Stock Yards Clearing House and Will Fill all Orders.

Have you ordered your Liberty sheep yet?

If you haven't, you can do so at once; and you can order as few or as many as you please. The National Sheep and Wool Bureau now has its clearing house established at the Stock Yards, Chicago and is prepared to fill all orders.

Time was when every farm in Illinois, almost, had its little band of sheep, and when every farmer had his clip of wool for the early summer market. The wool used to bring in some much needed money at an otherwise barren period of the year. The national government, the wool buyers, the meat packers, the cloth makers and the clothing men are all trying to bring that time back again. All hands figure that the farmers can use the money, and they know the country needs the wool. Further, the country can use the mutton after the wool is clipped.

The country needs the wool for the soldiers going to France, and for those who stay at home as well. There is a wool shortage thruout the world. Millions of acres of sheep land in the west have been taken for farming purposes. But little Australian wool can be had. Somebody must do something to help the situation. The wool users are hoping the Illinois farmers will undertake their part of the job.

Illinois as a state is trying to do her share. Sheep are to be placed at all the charitable and penal institutions. They help clean out the corners, for one thing, and with both wool and mutton high, the state expects to make money on them.

The National Sheep and Wool Bureau will furnish the state with sheep (the state paying for them, of course), and it will also buy lambs or breed-ewes for any individuals who want to help out with the wool crop. The Stock Yards clearing house exists for that purpose and all orders received will be filled by expert sheep men. By agreement with the packers they will have the pick of all lambs and ewes that come to market. The bureau makes no charge for its services, or (and this is the easier way) send drafts with orders. The bureau will do the rest, even to the shipping of the sheep. The address is, National Sheep and Wool Bureau, 305 Home Insurance Building, Chicago.

The bureau is prepared to fill orders of any size. It is announced that the next thirty days will be the best time to make purchases, as the finest of the western crop of lambs will be shipped here within that time. Already the bureau has filled many orders. The latest was that of the state, for several thousand head; the smallest was for Lawrence O. Heyworth a well known Chicagoan—two lambs, which were delivered in a taxi cab.

In addition to establishing the clearing house, the bureau has arranged for the Great Lakes Wool Convention, to be held at the pavilion at the Chicago Stock Yards today and tomorrow. The whole sheep question will be fully discussed at the gathering. Fifteen thousand western sheep men are in attendance and every Illinois farmer is welcome.

CITIZENS SHOULD BE CAREFUL ABOUT FIRES

Owing to the bad condition of the streets on account of paving and other improvements, all citizens are urged to be as careful as possible about fires. A little extra precaution may result in the saving of valuable property.

Samuel Hunt, Chief of Fire Department.

MATERNITY

Maternity and "Mother's Friend" have long been thought of together. "Mother's Friend" is a safe external preparation for expectant mothers. By its regular use the fine network of nerves just beneath the skin are soothed and stretching pains are avoided. The abdominal muscles relax easily when baby arrives and the form is preserved. "Mother's Friend" makes it possible for the mother to be herself and to aid nature. By so doing pain is avoided at the crisis. Do not neglect to give nature a helping hand. Ask for a bottle of "Mother's Friend" at your druggist's today and write for valuable book, "Motherhood and the Baby". It is free. Address The Bradford Regulator Co., Dept. Preserved.
